Felda Yeung PARTNER

Practice Area(s):
COMMERCIAL LITIGATION & DISPUTE RESOLUTION,
ARBITRATION, INSOLVENCY, EMPLOYMENT

Serving as the co-head of the firm's employment practice since 2022, Felda has a growing list of prominent clients. Felda handles all of the firm's employment cases, with clients ranging from international and local banks, SFC-licensed entities, accounting firms, law firms and C-suite executives. Her employment practice is focused on bonus claims, negotiating amicable exits and disputes regarding the validity and enforceability of post-termination restrictions, including seeking and resisting injunctive relief surrounding key individuals or teams of employees moving to a competitor. She also handles cases addressing discrimination and continues to work in this sphere to promote diversity, equity and inclusion. As a testament to her expertise, she authored Wolters Kluwer's Practical Guide on Hong Kong Employment Law, 6th edition due to be published later this year.

In addition, Felda also serves as a litigation partner in the firm and regularly acts in litigation and arbitration matters. Her practice covers all aspects of the dispute lifecycle, from giving strategic advice, seeking or resisting injunctive relief, trial or merits hearings, to enforcement and appeal matters. She is often praised by clients for her keen mind to find commercial solutions to address their objectives and priorities. She is a trusted advisor for several prominent families in Hong Kong dealing with probate and trust actions.

Felda was elected as Chairlady of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (East Asia Branch) Young Members Group for the 2024 – 2025 session, and a co-opted member of the Ciarb (EAB) Committee 2024 – 2025 session.

Felda is passionate about supporting and empowering women in their careers. She was a member of British Chamber of Commerce's Women in Business Committee, supporting and empowering women in their professional careers providing opportunities for networking, mentorship, skill development, and advocacy. Additionally, she was a mentor for the Women in Law's flagship mentorship programme in 2023 and is currently a mentor in the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (East Asia Branch) mentorship programme.
