COMMERCIAL LITIGATION & DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Commercial litigation lies at the very heart of Gall's day to day practice.

Our litigation lawyers have extensive experience in dispute resolution through the mediums of litigation, arbitration and mediation gained in all forums in Hong Kong and help clients navigate their case by providing a strong tailor-made litigation strategy.

Contractual disputes, shareholder disputes, board disputes and fraud are common types of commercial disputes encountered by companies that we regularly advise. Litigators at Gall take a commercial approach and offer realistic options and solutions for clients in order to help them to make an informed decision.

Commercial disputes do not always need to be resolved in Court. Our litigation lawyers are experienced in advising clients on how to initiate settlement negotiations and are skilled at formulating the right strategies on a case-by-case basis. We also have strong relationships with external counsel including overseas lawyers, accountants, investigators and liquidators.

Our commercial litigation lawyers are specialists in the following areas:

- Cross border litigation
- Recovery of sovereign debt
- Contractual disputes
- Debt recovery
- Professional negligence
